

Fenerate Consulting Announces Relocation to New York City

Fenerate Consulting, a top boutique business and management consulting firm, is pleased to announce its move to new offices in Midtown Manhattan.

New York, NY – October 1, 2014 – Fenerate Consulting, Inc. today announced it has moved to new offices in Midtown Manhattan. The facilities at 245 Park Avenue will be Fenerate’s global headquarters and the main base for consulting services for its clients based in North America.

“We are very pleased to move to our new offices at 245 Park Avenue,” said Andreas Mulchi, CEO and managing partner of Fenerate Consulting. “With the new facilities we can serve our client’s needs even better, and it’s a true source for our own obligation: innovative—responsible—excellent. The new facilities are state of the art and offer everything our stakeholders may ask for.”

Fenerate Consulting is a top boutique business and management consulting firm headquartered in New York City with a branch in Zug, Switzerland. Fenerate operates primarily in the United States and Europe, serving small to mid-sized companies as well as start-ups. The service offerings comprise strategy and business consulting, strategy execution, implementation support, transformation management, and competency development.

For further information please visit www.fenerate.com or contact Fenerate Consulting directly.

Contact Information

Andreas Mulchi, CEO & Managing Partner
Fenerate Consulting, Inc.
245 York Avenue, 39th Floor
New York, NY 10167

212.208.6708 (Office)
welcome@fenerate.com
www.fenerate.com